The Terms govern your use of the Services. If you don't agree with (or cannot comply with) the Terms, you may not use the Services. If we make changes to the Terms, we will provide notice of those changes by updating the "Last Updated" date above and posting notice in the Services, which you need to accept.

In order to use the Services, you need to (a) be 21 or older (please note that in some countries specific age restrictions may apply) or to have your parent or guardian's consent to the Terms, (b) have the power to enter into a binding contract with us and not be barred from doing so under any applicable laws and (c) be resident in a country where the Services are available, if you are an individual.

1. BIOTRON

- 1.1. Biotron is non-profit organization that focuses on helping individual users to fully and independently control their personal information/data and participate in the process of defining its value. Biotron seeks to offer the most accurate and actionable insights into personal data for organizations engaged in the study of people behavior and data analytics.
- 1.2. Except of mentioned above or under Biotron shall be considered to be a developer of Biotron Solution, its administrator and policy maker. Within scope of these activities Biotron shall mainly:
 - 1.2.1. Build a user permissioned & revenue sharing personal data warehouse (hereinafter "Biotron Solution"). Blockchain is used as a main support function to reinforce transparency and allow instant micro-transactions.
 - 1.2.2. Maintain, administer the Biotron Solution
 - 1.2.3. License access to the Biotron Solution
 - 1.2.4. Execute control of data sharing and data handling in accordance with the applicable law.
- 1.3. We are entitled to claim refund of a reward if we find that the reward was provided by mistake, or due to unlawful conduct, or fraudulent or otherwise unfair action that is in breach of these Terms of Use. By fraudulent or otherwise unfair action could be inter alia assessed receiving reward provided per one device to more than one user account since it is allowed to receive just one reward per one device. We are entitled to make the claim separately (without your activity or your consent) simply by withdrawing the reward from your account to which the reward was provided.

2. INFORMATION ABOUT INDIVIDUALS WE COLLECT

- 2.1. The protection of personal data of individuals (“the Data Subjects”) is a top priority for us. It is crucial that you understand how and why we collect, use and share information about Data Subjects when they access and use the Services or when they otherwise interact with us. We have taken appropriate technical and operational precautions to protect the personal data retained by us against unauthorized access and misuse. Our security procedures are revised regularly and adapted to reflect technological progress.
- 2.2. Within the Services’ registration process we collect e-mail address of Data Subjects in order to be able to communicate with registered users about products, services, offers, promotions, and events, and provide other news and information we think will be of interest to users.
- 2.3. The provision of your e-mail address to us is voluntary. We do not transfer your e-mail address to third parties.
- 2.4. We take reasonable measures to help protect information about Data Subjects from loss, theft, misuse and unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration, and destruction.

3. DATA PRIVACY FOR THE USE OF GOOGLE ANALYTICS

- 3.1. These Services use analytics service Google Analytics provided by Google Inc. This service requires the use of “Cookies” and other technologies – See section Cookies, Web Beacons and Other Technologies below. Some information/data about your usage of the Services may be transferred to a Google server and saved there for analytic purposes. By order of Biotron, Google will use this information/data to evaluate and analyse your usage of the Services, to create reports about the Services, and to deliver further services regarding the usage of the Services or the internet. The IP-address, transferred as part of Google Analytics by your browser, will not be merged with other data of Google.

4. COOKIES, WEB BEACONS AND OTHER TECHNOLOGIES

- 4.1. We collect information from user visits to the Services and users use of our cloud offerings and our software products to help us gather statistics about usage and effectiveness and personalize users’ experience. We do so through the use of various technologies, including scripts, tags, Local Shared Objects (Flash cookies), Local Storage (HTML5) beacons, and one called "cookies".
- 4.2. A cookie is a piece of data that a website can send to your browser, which may then be stored on your computer as a tag that identifies your computer. While cookies are often only used to measure website usage (such as number of visitors and duration of visit) and effectiveness (such as topics visitors are most interested in) and to allow for ease of navigation or use and, as such, are not associated with any personal information, they are also used at times to personalize a known visitor's experience to a website by being associated with profile information or user preferences. Over time this information provides valuable insight to help improve the user experience.
- 4.3. Cookies in our software products can be turned off in the product itself. Since cookies allow you to take advantage of some of our Services’ features or features of our software products and SaaS offerings, we recommend that you leave them turned on. If you block, turn off or otherwise reject our cookies, some websites may not display properly.
- 4.4. Some of our business partners set web beacons and cookies on our site. In addition, third-party social media buttons may log certain information such as your IP address, browser type and language, access time, and referring Services' addresses, and, if you are logged in to those social media sites, they may also link such collected information with your profile information on that site. We do not control these third-party tracking technologies.

5. RIGHTS OF THE DATA SUBJECTS

- 5.1. You as a Data Subject have the right to request the access and rectification or erasure of personal data or restriction of processing or to object to processing as well as the right to data portability (when it is technically feasible). Further, you have a right to lodge a complaint with a respective supervisory authority.
- 5.2. The right to rectification is the right of the Data Subject to obtain without undue delay the rectification of inaccurate personal data concerning him or her.
- 5.3. The right to erasure is the right of the Data Subject to obtain the erasure of personal data concerning him or her without undue delay, where:
 - the personal data are no longer necessary in relation to the purposes for which they were collected or otherwise processed;
